

Faculties in the senior school conduct weekly opt-in study and support sessions for students to attend as they require. Students are strongly encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to access subject teachers and support and assistance for work or assessments that are currently completing. Students do not need to book a place but should arrive to the listed rooms at the times included in the below grid.

For those wanting to improve their results, and their understanding of their coursework, this is a great opportunity to receive guided advice and support.
